WELCOME MESSAGE

For over 135 years, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSKCC) – the world’s oldest and largest private cancer center – has been dedicated to providing exceptional patient care through our ground breaking scientific research in cancer prevention, detection, diagnosis, and innovative surgical techniques and breakthrough discoveries in new drug therapies. Our educational programs train future physicians and scientists, and the knowledge and experience they gain at MSKCC has an impact on cancer treatment and biomedical research around the world.

We also recognize that global challenges, be it cancer, COVID-19, or climate crisis requires global solutions. We need greater cooperation in areas of education, health policy, basic and translational research, and access to clinical trials. At the Bobst International Center at MSKCC, we have established many new cancer collaborations across Africa, the Middle East, and Asia-Pacific. As part of this effort, we are excited to present educational programming between MSKCC and healthcare institutions across India. The next host in this educational series is Tata Memorial Center (TMC) in Mumbai. We are grateful for the vision and leadership of Dr. Pankaj Chaturvedi (Deputy Director, Center for Cancer Epidemiology, TMC) to facilitate this collaboration on the area of head and neck cancers, which are among the leading causes of cancer morbidity and mortality in India and globally.

Through these interactive tumor boards, we hope to accelerate exchange of knowledge to improve patient outcomes, new research collaborations, and increase graduate training between MSKCC and the Head and Neck oncology community of India.

The MSKCC Bobst International Center in New York has long helped patients diagnosed with cancer seek a consultation or for their treatments. Every year, we have a significant number of patients from India who seek second opinion and/or travel to New York for cancer care. We are now thrilled to announce the inauguration of the MSKCC India Center in Chennai. Our dedicated team in Chennai helps patients from across India obtain a remote second opinion from disease-specific experts at MSKCC New York. Thanks to our unique partnership with iCliniq, a global telemedicine company, patients can avail a remote consultation in the comfort of their home or any Internet-enabled location. These remote opinions provide an avenue for frequent exchange between their oncologists in India and those at MSKCC New York. Dr. Varadarajan Kumar oversees the remote opinion program and is your primary contact to connect over patient care, educational programming, and research collaborations.

We are grateful for your interest in attending this event and look forward to seeing you at future events.
